New! MANY NATIONS

Many Nations pays tribute to the Indigenous person representing more than one tribe. An indigenized version of DNA frames the initials 'M' and 'B' to create a symbol for 'mixtblood.' The hourglass shape represents the Tsiiyeel, a symbol to honor the Navajo matriarch society. A serape layout honors the Yaqui, and turquoise symbolizes the Pueblo of Laguna. These are the Many Nations of Dustin Lopez, a College Fund scholar, designer, and artist. Lopez reclaimed his identity through powwow, where he learned inter-tribal dances and embraced his mixtblood identity with a full heart and open mind.

See Dustin Lopez' biography on page 34.

MADE INUSA LEGENDARY COLLECTION

The original, exclusive designs of the Legendary Collection are inspired by Native American art, beliefs, ceremonies and heroes. Native Americans were our first, and remain our best customers, and a Pendleton blanket continues to signify honor and respect. Blankets are gifted to acknowledge births, deaths, weddings, graduations, milestones and accomplishments; collectible heirlooms of tomorrow that can be used and enjoyed today. See Artist Biographies on page 34 & 35.

ROCK POINT COLLECTION

Rock Point Arizona is part of the Diné/Navajo Nation that covers more than 17 million acres in the Southwest. Rugged red rock formations surround this community. On a plain background representing the desert floor, formations like Red Mesa, Two Sisters, North Arch, and Whale Rock, or Tsé Biná'ookaahí are symbolized by repeating groups of geometric forms. These patterns alternate with Los Ojos motifs, which are joined together with arrows that point to the past and the future.

The PENDLETON® PATTERN SINCE 1923

New! CELEBRATING 100 YEARS OF PENDLETON'S HARDING PATTERN

A new commemorative color celebrates 100 years of the Harding pattern with a refreshed layout. In 1923, President Warren G. Harding and First Lady Florence Harding visited Oregon's Blue Mountain Country to dedicate a portion of the Old Oregon Trail. At the ceremony, leaders of the Cayuse and Umatilla Nations presented Mrs. Harding with a newly designed blanket to reflect their admiration of her sincere and forthright nature. For a century, the Harding pattern has been one of Pendleton's most sought-after signature patterns. This bright, exciting ombre celebrates its evergreen popularity.

SALTILLO SUNSET

A centered band of triangles, steps, and arrows evokes the bustle of Saltillo, a thriving city in Northern Mexico. On each side of this central motif, a vibrant ombre echoes the striking sunsets in the nearby Chihuahuan Desert. A lack of pollutants and water particles makes for greater spectral purity in the skies above this vast, dry eco-region. This allows brilliant and breathtaking color to fill the sky as the sun sets on another day. Unnapped, whipstitch binding.

BRIDGE CREEK

The central motif of this pattern represents Bridge Creek, a sometimes calm, sometimes tempestuous waterway running through Mitchell, Oregon. This tiny town once held a thriving business district with rollicking saloons known as "Tiger Town," and a hillside residential area known as "Piety Hill." Today, Mitchell welcomes travelers to the John Day Fossil Beds and the Painted Hills. Layers of diamonds and zigzags topped by complex, colorful hills represent the dramatic geology of these Eastern Oregon landmarks. Unnapped.

JOURNEY WEST

This intricate design celebrates the pioneering spirit of our founder, weaver Thomas L. Kay, who journeyed from England to America and arrived in Oregon in 1863. This original design was discovered in a 19th-century European mill and included the designer's notes and calculations, handwritten neatly along the sides. Our modern Pendleton designers viewed this historic work of art with reverence and used it as inspiration for a tribute to our founder. Unnapped.

OPAL SPRINGS

Near the tiny town of Culver, early travelers to Oregon found a natural spring with jewel-like stones. They named this place Opal Springs. This pattern uses a quilt-like arrangement of shapes to show the movement and beauty of those stones—naturally polished agates—churning in fresh spring water. Unnapped, whipstitch binding.

MEDICINE BOW

The Medicine Bow River rises deep in Wyoming's Snowy Range to flow 167 miles on its way to the Medicine Bow Mountains. Native tribes traveled to the area to harvest mountain mahogany for especially fine bows. Stands of wood alternate with bands of arrows, meeting in the center to show the Medicine Bow River crossing, an important link between East and West. Unnapped.

THE HEALING BLANKET

Against the blue of Father Sky, songbirds rise from Mother Earth to greet the healing rays of Morning Sun. The birds carry messages of harmony, balance, and renewal in a design that brings awareness to the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Peoples Movement. A band of turquoise symbolizes Life, with bands of red for missing Native relatives who will never be forgotten. Dine artisan Leandra Yazzie's design brings a message of renewal, resilience, and hope. Proceeds from the sale of this special edition blanket will go to NIWRC: National Indigenous Women's Resource Center. Unnapped.

Like the piñon tree, members of the Navajo Nation gather resources to survive an increasingly precarious water supply. Diné artist Emma Robbins has gathered symbols of endurance for this design; a sáanii (maternal grandmother) scarf crossed by traditional sash belts used in ceremonies and childbirth. At the center, a young woman's bracelet of silver is set with turquoise, a stone formed by rare rains flowing through arid layers of rock. A portion of blanket sales will support DigDeep's Navajo Water Project. Napped.

While the serape is now part of both Spanish and Native American textiles, it has roots in the Mexican weaving tradition. Most commonly, the serape is woven of fine yarns that allow it to be lighter in weight than other blankets, with unbalanced stripes of varying widths. PENDLETON MILLS ARE NOW OEKO-TEX® CERTIFIED

Based in Zurich, OEKO-TEX* consists of 17 independent institutes in Europe and Japan that continuously develop test methods and establish values for the textile and leather industry. Their mission is to create trust in textiles. OEKO-TEX* certification means a maker has passed rigorous standards for safety and responsible manufacturing processes. There are different levels and categories of certification. Both Pendleton mills are OEKO-TEX* STeP certified.

The production facilities are certified as sustainable socially responsible. Their products are tested for harmful substances and produced sustainably in accordance with OEKO-TEX* guidelines.

ALTO MESA - TRADITIONS

The town of Alto, Texas, is just six miles from the Caddo Mounds Historic Site, one of the most complete archeological sites in North America. The original name of this Mississippian settlement has been lost to time. It was created in approximately 800 CE, with major construction between 1100 and 1300 CE. The pattern of manmade hills has bands representing the Camino Real de los Tejas, an ancient travel route, running parallel to the mounds.

SAWTOOTH MOUNTAIN - TRADITIONS

The Sawtooth Mountain range covers 678 square miles, from which it dominates the landscape of Central Idaho. The range was named after a large two-handled saw with serrated teeth used by early loggers in the region. The pattern shows the jagged height of these rugged peaks, which reach 10,751 feet at the summit of Thompson Peak. The Sawtooth Wilderness was officially created in 1972, and is considered the "Crown Jewel" of Idaho, the Gem State.

PENDLETON HARDING PATTERN

SINCE 1923

CELEBRATING 100 YEARS OF PENDLETON'S HARDING PATTERN

A new commemorative color celebrates 100 years of the Harding pattern with a refreshed layout. In 1923, President Warren G. Harding and First Lady Florence Harding visited Oregon's Blue Mountain Country to dedicate a portion of the Old Oregon Trail. At the ceremony, leaders of the Cayuse and Umatilla Nations presented Mrs. Harding with a newly designed blanket to reflect their admiration of her sincere and forthright nature.

For a century, the Harding pattern has been one of Pendleton's most sought-after signature patterns. This bright, exciting ombre celebrates its evergreen popularity.

OPAL SPRINGS - CANOPY CANVAS COLLECTION

Inspired by pieced quilts, Opal Springs offers a modern take on a traditional craft. Near the tiny town of Culver, early travelers to Oregon found a natural spring within a plunging gorge on the Lower Crooked River. Transfixed by jewel-like stones bubbling up in the icy waters, they named this place Opal Springs. This pattern uses a quilt-like arrangement of shapes to show the movement and beauty of those stones—naturally polished agates—churning in fresh springwater.

TYE RIVER

The Tye River originates on Cowboy Mountain at Stevens Pass in northern Washington state. A dynamic pattern of peaks and valleys represents the Tye River as it flows through the stunning scenery of the North Cascades Loop. Jagged peaks are banded by many high mountain tributaries that plunge down steep waterfalls to join the Tye from hanging valleys. Near its mouth, the river widens, settles and splits, making it an excellent habitat for chinook and coho salmon.

ALTO MESA

The town of Alto, Texas, is just six miles from the Caddo Mounds Historic Site, one of the most complete archaeological sites in North America. The original name of this Mississippian settlement has been lost to time. It was created in approximately 800 CE, with major construction between 1100 and 1300 CE. The pattern of man made hills has bands representing the Camino Real de los Tejas, an ancient travel route, running parallel to the mounds.

5/25 RF960-74325 Bridge Creek Indigo

BRIDGE CREEK

The central motif of this pattern represents Bridge Creek, a sometimes calm, sometimes tempestuous waterway running through Mitchell, Oregon. This tiny town once held a thriving business district with rollicking saloons known as "Tiger Town," and a hillside residential area known as "Piety Hill." Today, Mitchell welcomes travelers to the John Day Fossil Beds and the Painted Hills. Layers of diamonds and zigzags topped by complex, colorful hills represent the dramatic geology of these Eastern Oregon landmarks.

100 YEARS OF HARDING

A new commemorative color celebrates 100 years of the Harding pattern with a refreshed layout. In 1923, President Warren G. Harding and First Lady Florence Harding visited Oregon's Blue Mountain Country to dedicate a portion of the old Oregon Trail. At the ceremony, leaders of the Cayuse and Umatilla Nations presented Mrs. Harding with a newly designed blanket to reflect their admiration of her sincere and forthright nature. For a century, the Harding pattern has been one of Pendleton's most sought after signature patterns. This bright, exciting Royal Blue Century Harding celebrates its evergreen popularity.

FEATURED ARTISTS

Each year, Pendleton is proud to work with some of the finest artists to bring you new, inspired designs. Each artist brings their experience and point of view to the design, which is then woven on the Jacquard looms in our Pendleton, Oregon, mill. These gifted artists expand the tradition which began when the first blankets rolled off the looms in 1909.

New! DUSTIN LOPEZ

American Indian College Fund - Many Nations

Dustin Lopez (Diné/Laguna Pueblo/Pascua Yaqui) is based in Phoenix, Arizona. He is currently working as a designer, muralist, and educator, and attends Diné College, majoring in Fine Arts with an emphasis in Design. With a passion for creativity, Lopez aspires to be a role model on and off the reservation. "My dream is to use art and design as a driving force to reclaim our language, culture, and identities as 'mixtbloods'. By combining modern and street art with contemporary art, I hope to inspire successfully between both worlds."

New! LEANDRA YAZZIE
The Healing Blanket

Artist and designer Leandra Yazzie (Diné) lives in Blue Gap, Arizona. Growing up, her grandmother and aunt, both renowned Navajo weavers, shared their talents, techniques, and histories with her. Ms. Yazzie credits the resilient woman in her life with inspiring the vibrant cultural undertones that inform her work.

Gather

Emma Robbins (Diné) is an artist, community organizer, and Executive Director of the Navajo Water Project, part of the human rights nonprofit DigDeep Water. She completed her BFA at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago and studied Modern and Contemporary Latin American Art History in Buenos Aires, Argentina. She is also an Aspen Institute Healthy Communities Fellow. Through her artwork, Robbins strives to raise awareness of Native issues through art that uses found materials gathered on her trips across the United States and abroad.

CHELYSA OWENS-CYR American Indian College Fund - Unity

Chelysa Owens-Cyr (Fort Peck Assiniboine & Dakota Sioux/Pasqua First Nations Cree) is an artist from

Montana's Fort Peck Indian Reservation. As a College Fund scholar, she studied Business Administration at Fort Peck Community College. She is a self-taught contemporary ledger artist, beader, graphic designer and painter, influenced by her family and culture. "I work with many mediums to share my personal teachings, beliefs, stories and visions with the people."

DESHAWNA ANDERSON American Indian College Fund -Courage to Bloom

Deshawna Anderson (White Mountain Apache/Crow)
Justin Stewart where she studied Business Administration. She is of the Butterfly Clan and is a child of the Greasy Mouth. As a visual learner, she became interested in art as a tool to educate the viewer on the perspective of its creator. Influenced by Apache and Crow culture from the Crazy Mountains to Salt River Canyon, she also draws inspiration from historic and contemporary burden baskets, beadwork, quillwork, and attire.

TRACIE JACKSON American Indian College Fund -Nike N7 - 7 Generations

Tracie Jackson is a Diné artist and designer from Star Mountain in the Navajo Nation. She is a fourth generation artisan. Her family encouraged her to study the traditional art forms of her tribe, and with their support she became a painter, jeweler, beader, and graphic designer. She studied design at the University of Oregon and currently works in Portland, Oregon, designing for the Nike N7 program, her dream job since age 14. "I was taught to get an education and use it to help our Native community, which pushed me to become a designer for N7."

COMMUNITY AND CONNECTION

Pendleton is part of a connected community that only grows stronger through education, preservation, wellness, and care for America's heroes. We are proud to give back through donations, contributions and philanthropic partnerships.

DIG DEEP Supporting DigDeep's Navajo Water Project Notice: Pendleton Woolen Mills complies with the Indian Arts and Crafts Act | The Indian Arts and Crafts Act of 1990 (P.L. 101-644), as amended, is a truth-in-marketing law that prohibits the offer or display for sale, or sale, of any art or craft product in a manner that falsely suggests it is Indian produced, an Indian product, or the product of a particular Indian Tribe. Covering all traditional and contemporary American Indian and Indian-style art and craftwork produced after 1935, the Act carries both criminal and civil penalties. For more information on the Act, please visit https://www.doi.gov/iacb

PRESTON SINGLETARY American Indian College Fund - Raven and the Box of Knowledge

Preston Singletary is an internationally known glass artist who grew up in the Pacific Northwest. His great-grandparents were full-blooded Tlingit Indians. His works explore traditional images and legends of his Tlingit heritage, translated into glass. His artworks are included in museum collections from the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington, DC to the Handelsbanken in Stockholm, Sweden.

RAMONA SAKIESTEWA Legendary Collection - Cedar Canyon

Ramona Sakiestewa (Hopi) is an internationally renowned artist and designer who grew up in the American Southwest.

Her portfolio includes fine art tapestries, works on paper, and architectural design. Her works reside in public, private, corporate and museum collections in the United States and abroad, with numerous awards including the New Mexico Governor's Award for Excellence in the Arts. "As artists, we have to be prepared to reinvent ourselves many times."

SUSANA SANTOS Legendary Collection - Rodeo Sisters

Apolonia Susana Santos (1954-2006) was a painter, serigrapher, sculptor, writer and activist of Tygh and Yakama ancestry. Her use of rich colors, textures and natural materials created dynamic landscapes with a deep narrative that illuminates historic and contemporary Indigenous life and memory. Susana's artistic prowess and fearless activism were inextricable. She brought a unique, authentic vision to everything she created. Through her writings, public speaking, theater-style marches and art shows, Susana encouraged Native youth and children to always "Remember Who You Are."

JOE TOLEDO

Legendary Collection - In their Element

Joe Toledo is a native of Jemez Pueblo in New Mexico who currently lives in Tiffany, Colorado. He enjoys working in watercolor because it is "spontaneous and unpredictable." Mr. Toledo mixes soft rainwater with his colors to reflect images from his Jemez Pueblo culture. His works are exhibited in collections in the United States, Canada and Europe.

JIM YELLOWHAWK Legendary Collection - Buffalo Nation

Jim Yellowhawk grew up on the Cheyenne River Reservation in South Dakota. He is an enrolled member of the Itazipco Band of the Cheyenne River Sioux Tribe, with Onodoga/Iroquois heritage through his mother. He graduated from Marion College, Indiana, and also studied at Columbus, Ohio School of Art and Design. He divides his time between the Black Hills of South Dakota and Golden Bay, New Zealand. His work encompasses many different media, including dance. "Traditional spirituality is woven into my daily life, work, practices and way of being."

JUDD THOMPSON Artist Collection - A Horse Called Paint

Judd Thompson was born in 1983 and grew up surrounded by art in his family's business, The Custer Battlefield Trading Post.

After graduating from the University of Wyoming with a degree in Art & Art History, he moved to Billings, Montana, where he uses his passion for color theory to capture the essence of Crow Country in a variety of media, including painting and sculpture.

LOGAN MAXWELL HAGEGE Artist Collection - Resting Place

Logan Maxwell Hagege is a Los Angeles based contemporary artist whose modern visions of the American West use signature clouds and repeating shapes to echo flora and figures in the foreground, creating a visual narrative for each composition. His use of natural light and color distills shapes to their essence, while celebrating their complexity.
